

iMail version 5 is currently in beta. All components are fully functional, but are still undergoing fine-tuning and final testing and validation.

This version brings internet standards based mail services to linux and Windows in an affordable, easy to use package.

Feature Highlights

- Supports Windows and linux operating systems
- IMAP4 and POP3 client access support
- POP3 and IMAP4 maildrop download and distribution
- Web based administration
- End user webmail client
- Highly secure
- Single domain management across multiple servers
- Mobile device support and mailbox synchronization